Services

Our philosophy is simple. We help our client's get better results from their displays. This is done by providing quality products, personalized service and staying focused on ROI.

Worden Displays specializing in portable & custom-modular displays. Through our in-house services, expertise and trusted partners, we provide our clients with quality, cost effective solutions for face to face marketing opportunities.

Let us use our knowledge and experience, to help capture the attention of your target audience through great design and strategic planning. You won't be disappointed.

Design & Planning

A powerful first impression is critical to ensuring that you are not lost in the sea of other exhibitors. After our initial discovery process, our team will create a personalized solution to fit your needs and budgetary requirements.

Project Management

Your projects will be completed on time and within budget with our project management team looking after all of the details of your projects from start to finish.

Production

Every project is different, but must be handled efficiently and professionally. Our production team and partners allow us the flexibility to work with wood, plastics, glass, metals, fabrics, flooring, laminates, paint finishes and technology within your display project.

Graphics

Eye catching graphics are important to get your audience's attention and present your brand in a professional manner. Our in-house graphics technologies allow us to produce a wide array of graphics for both indoor and outdoor use.

Installation & Dismantle

Your display will be handled professionally and efficiently by our installation team and extensive installation network throughout North America to ensure that you look great at your next show.

Shipping

Through our logistics experience and network of reliable transportation partners, we can handle all of the transportation details to ensure that all shipments are handled efficiently.

Storage

Between shows, our in-house heated and secure storage facilities allow easy access to your trade show equipment for any updates or rush projects that occur.
